

MEDLINE^{plus}

Consumer-Friendly Health Information

WWW.MEDLINEPLUS.GOV

MEDLINE^{plus} is the Library's consumer-friendly source of up-to-date health information. You'll find countless resources on health and wellness topics, drug information, lists of hospitals and physicians, a medical encyclopedia and several easy-to-read dictionaries. Use the popular preformatted MEDLINE searches to learn what medical journals have to say about hundreds of diseases and conditions. With MEDLINE^{plus}, individuals anywhere can get helpful medical information. From the nurse in rural Montana, to the AIDS researcher in South Africa, anyone having a computer with Internet access can use this rich collection of medical information. MEDLINE^{plus} is confidential, carries no advertising, and does not endorse any company or product. Its contents are checked frequently for timeliness and accuracy. You can trust the information here.

MEDLINE^{plus} ANSWERS YOUR HEALTH AND MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

MEDLINE

Medical Information for Health Professionals

MEDLINE, a collection of some 12 million bibliographic citations to the world's medical journals, is NLM's largest database and its most frequently used. MEDLINE is searched about 33 million times each month.

MEDLINE also has a feature that allows you to view the complete text of certain journal articles, right on your screen. Full text is available for more than 3000 of the journals indexed on MEDLINE.

PUBMED.GOV

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES